CHAIRMAN, UNIVERSITY COUNCIL'S MESSAGE

“Remain Curious and Be Open to Lifelong Learning”

Our Chancellor, H.E. Goodluck Ebele Jonathan, the former President of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, government leaders, members of the diplomatic corps, distinguished guests, esteemed faculty, proud families of today's new graduates, and, most importantly, the remarkable graduates of Cavendish University of today.

Today, we gather to celebrate a significant milestone in your lives – your graduation. This day marks the culmination of years of dedication, perseverance, and hard work. It is a moment to reflect on your journey, to acknowledge your achievements, and to look forward to the boundless possibilities that lie ahead.

The mission of Cavendish University is to transform and inspire students to reach their full potential in employment, entrepreneurship, and ethical leadership. Today, as we honour your accomplishments, we recognize that each of you has embraced this mission wholeheartedly. You have demonstrated resilience and determination, navigating the challenges and triumphs of your academic journey to earn your certificates, diplomas, and degrees.

However, as you stand on the threshold of new beginnings, I want to share a crucial message with you: Do not confuse the title of your diploma or degree with your personal identity. Your academic achievements are a testament to your hard work and capabilities, but they do not define the entirety of who you are. You are multifaceted individuals with a wealth of talents and potential that extends far beyond the confines of your chosen field of study.

As graduates of Cavendish University, you have been equipped not only with specialized knowledge but also with a comprehensive education that prepares you to navigate various aspects of life. Your education has endowed you with critical thinking skills, ethical principles, and an entrepreneurial mindset. These attributes will serve as your foundation as you embark on your professional and personal journeys.

In today's rapidly evolving world, it is essential to cultivate an entrepreneurial mindset that identifies opportunities and seeks to create value from them. Whether you choose to pursue a career aligned with your degree or venture into new territories, your general education will be your greatest asset. Embrace the gig economy, explore online platforms, and seek out volunteer opportunities within your community. These experiences will not only enhance your marketability but also allow you to contribute meaningfully to society.

Remember that your journey does not end here. Continuously strive for excellence, remain curious, and be open to lifelong learning. The skills and knowledge you have acquired at Cavendish University are the building blocks for your future success, but your growth as a person will continue to unfold in diverse and unexpected ways.

As you move forward, aim to become not only experts in your field but also well-rounded individuals capable of making a positive impact in various spheres of life. Your potential is limitless, and your future is filled with endless possibilities. You are also responsible for the future of Africa because less than 10% of Africans have a university degree. You are part of this privileged few. Each of you should show your commitment to Africa by volunteering to teach at least one child reading or basic arithmetic or confidence—help at least one child every year; the more, the better. You should be an asset to the community through your actions and outcomes.

Today, we celebrate your achievements and look forward to the remarkable contributions you will make to the world. Always remember what Barack Obama told us, he said “YES WE CAN.” Once again congratulations, and God bless you.

Prof. Olubayi Olubayi, Chairman University Council

VICE CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

"Happiness is the Key to Success"

It is with immense pride and joy that I, as the new Vice Chancellor, extend my heartfelt congratulations to each of you on this momentous occasion. Congratulations, Class of 2024.

I want to acknowledge the immense contributions of my predecessor, Prof. John Mugisha. His leadership has been instrumental in shaping the path of our university. Additionally, I extend my gratitude to our dedicated faculty and staff for their unwavering dedication to nurturing future leaders. Their mentorship and guidance have been phenomenal. To the families and friends who have supported our graduates, you have been pivotal in shaping the success we celebrate today. Your sacrifices have left an indelible mark on the lives of our graduates.

Today, we celebrate your achievements under the theme 'Consolidating Excellence, Innovation, and Transformation.' We reflect on the remarkable journeys you have undertaken. This ceremony marks the culmination of years of hard work, resilience, determination and a profound commitment to knowledge, growth, and excellence. I applaud your individual and collective accomplishments. Remember, many began this journey with you but did not reach this point—your perseverance is commendable.

Our university, a beacon of learning, has instilled in each of you a unique global perspective. With students from over 40 nations, the Cavendish experience has given you insights that will serve you well in the globalised world. The classes you took, the books you read, and most importantly, the diverse classmates you met have all contributed to this perspective. Use it wisely!

Equipped with the knowledge and skills gained here, I encourage you to continue pushing boundaries, challenging norms, and embracing opportunities to make a meaningful impact in your chosen fields. Today, you join the Cavendish Alumni Family, a distinguished group of our best ambassadors who carry the torch of excellence, innovation, and transformation to the world. Your potential to make a significant difference in your fields is immense, and we look forward to witnessing your impact.

To ensure we remain at the forefront of education, we have introduced three new curricula: a Bachelor of Science in Data Science and Artificial Intelligence, a Diploma in Data Science and Analytics, and an Advanced Diploma in Health Leadership and Management. These programmes are a testament to our commitment to innovation and staying relevant to emerging trends and market demands.

I conclude with the words of Albert Schweitzer, "Success is not the key to happiness. Happiness is the key to Success. If you love what you are doing, you will be successful." Members of the Graduating Class of 2024, as you embark on lives of worth and purpose, lives of service to a world that desperately needs you, let me share a few hopes that we, your teachers, hold for you. We hope for a future filled with optimism, inspiration, and the courage to pursue your dreams.

May your journeys be filled with continued growth, resilience in the face of challenges, and the courage to innovate and lead. May you build long-lasting, loving relationships, find joy in your craft, and use your professions to promote the greater good. Uphold our university values of passion, respect, responsibility, excellence, integrity, and innovation, as you forge ahead towards a brighter future. Congratulations Again, Class of 2024. Go forth and make us proud. God bless you.

Dr Olive Sabiiti, Vice Chancellor

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

“Build Strong Networks”

Dear Cavendish University Uganda Class of 2024, Congratulations!

I am hoping that today you will take time to memorably celebrate your graduation. Remember though that, beyond your beautiful caps, gowns, and stoles, today's graduation should be a time to reflect on the dynamic future ahead of you.

We promise in our university's mission to transform and inspire students to reach their full potential in employment, entrepreneurship, and ethical leadership. I hope that your experience with us has met this goal and that you now feel motivated, confident, and optimistic to undertake your dreams.

I wish to thank the university community for maintaining a very cohesive and purposeful approach in delivering affordable, quality market-relevant and digitally enabled higher education in the last year, a time when we also undertook several surveys to gain insights and feedback on areas of improvement - the satisfaction and experiences of our Students, Staff, Alumni, Parents and Guardians. The outcome was a consistent vote in our university being seen as providing work-appropriate higher education.

I wish, in a special way, to thank someone I have worked well and closely with over many years: - Prof. John Mugisha who, very recently, elected to leave, after a period of 8 years of service as our Vice Chancellor, to pursue interests outside the university. A distinguished higher education leader, Prof. Mugisha has led the university with distinction and championed many successes, including regulatory compliance, service quality, digital transformation, staff development and research, as well as deep engagement with higher education stakeholders. As I wish him success in his new work, I also welcome Dr. Olive Sabiiti, to her new role as Ag. Vice Chancellor. Dr Sabiiti is an amazing leader with a passion for teaching, learning, research and publication. We cannot wait to see her realise her own vision.

In the past year, our university has remained a vibrant crucible for the advancement of the interests and potential of our staff, students and the community with a number of university leaders serving on important boards, while students also continued to excel in co- and extra-curricular activities, notably winning the 10th National Inter-University Constitutional Law Moot Court Competition. Several faculty staff successfully completed their PhDs, led and participated in a number of conferences and webinars, while a number of our Alumni got recognitions, notably Hon. Balaam Barugahara, who was appointed the new State Minister for Youth and Children Affairs in Uganda, and Hon James Karpu Momo, the new Assistant Minister for Administration and Insurance in Liberia.

Higher education institutions the world over still emphasise the impartation of knowledge to students, above all else; but at Cavendish University Uganda, we are mindful that this is only probably about 1/3 of what it takes to succeed in today's world of work and business. Good attitude, combined with soft skills, such as, relating well with others, communicating well, keeping time, making careful decisions, are all equally important and form the remaining 2/3 of what students need to succeed after graduation.

My prayer to our graduands is that you continue to live the mantra of our university, that, Success begins at Cavendish! You have received a quality, market relevant education from us; may you build on this by being well behaved life-long learners that build strong networks. You will realise your desired success!

Mr. David Mutabanura, Executive Director

BUILDING EMPLOYEE FINANCIAL RESILIENCE: CUU LAUNCHES STAFF SACCO!

In August 2022, CUU registered a Staff SACCO aimed at enhancing the financial well-being of university staff under REG NO.P.21941/R25. The SACCO's vision is to become the leading financial cooperative for university employees, providing accessible and sustainable financial services that contribute to socio-economic transformation.

Mission and Objectives

The mission of the SACCO focuses on empowering university staff through innovative financial services and fostering a cooperative spirit, enabling members to thrive in sustainable financial practices. The key objectives include:

- Financial Empowerment
- Education and Capacity Building
- Community Building
- Sustainability and Growth
- Member Engagement and Participation

The SACCO operates on core values of: Integrity, Community, Empowerment, Sustainability, Inclusivity, and Financial Products.

The SACCO has made notable progress since its establishment, with 60% of CUU staff now members who actively engage in governance, independent of university management. As of June 2024, the SACCO has amassed over UGX 100,000,000 in savings and issued more than 50 loans totalling UGX 167,000,000, with 20% of these loans fully repaid on time.

Looking ahead, the SACCO aims to enroll 100% of university staff by the end of the 2024/2025 fiscal year. This will be achieved by expanding its product offerings to include other stakeholders, such as alumni, and securing additional financing to improve members' livelihoods.

GRADUANDS BY GENDER

FORUM FOR AFRICAN WOMEN EDUCATIONALISTS (FAWE) UGANDA CHAPTER A GREAT PARTNERSHIP WITH CAVENDISH UNIVERSITY UGANDA (CUU)

FAWE Uganda is a non-governmental organization founded in 1997 with the goal to accelerate female participation in education in order to close the gender gap within the education system at all levels in Uganda. FAWE Uganda is part of the larger FAWE network, which operates in 36 African countries.

Over the years, FAWE Uganda has been at the forefront of breaking barriers to girls' education. Through its various programs FAWE seeks to empower girls and women with the knowledge, skills, and opportunities they need to realize their full potential and partake in dignified work.

These are some of our key focus areas:

- Quality Education: we strive to improve the educational experience for girls and women, ensuring they receive the support and resources they need to succeed.
- Gender-Responsive Pedagogy: we enhance teaching practices in schools to be more inclusive and gender sensitive
- Research and Knowledge Management: by strengthening research initiatives, we inform policies and practices that promote girls' education and empower stakeholders to make data-driven decisions.

Empowering young women through educational opportunities and support

FAWE Uganda supports disadvantaged young women and men through educational sponsorships and bursaries. In 2024, we aim to recruit 500 students, with a strong emphasis on young women (80%), alongside allocations for refugees (10%) and persons with disabilities (5%). Our partnerships with district education offices, community leaders, and institutions like Cavendish University Uganda ensure that our selection process is informed by local insights and addresses community-specific needs.

FAWE Uganda and Cavendish University Uganda Partnership

In 2020, CUU and FAWE Uganda entered a partnership to empower more young women with scholarship opportunities. FAWE Uganda committed to the partnership, has worked with CUU to provide quality education to young women. Additionally, CUU, inspired by FAWE Uganda's mission, sponsored six young women with scholarships as their corporate social responsibility.

Celebrating Success

FAWE Uganda's efforts have yielded remarkable success stories. To date, we have celebrated numerous graduates who have emerged from our programs, equipped with the skills and knowledge to pursue their dreams. This year, we are proud to announce that several students will be graduating from universities, including Cavendish University Uganda, marking a significant milestone in their educational journeys.

Funding Our Mission

FAWE Uganda relies on the generosity of donations and support from partners, including Cavendish University Uganda, well-wishers, and stakeholders. These contributions are vital in helping us keep girls in school and ensuring they complete their education.
